

I currently listen to KLove radio during work hours as well as in my car. Its family friendly format is a great encouragement to me and every member of my family. KLove has local announcements in which I am interested. I believe the community has more than its share of other programming and the uplifting encouraging message of KLove would be sorely missed by the public.